The ExOne Company and its subsidiaries ("ExOne") are committed to ethical practices and compliance with applicable laws and regulations wherever it does business. ExOne strives to be a responsible corporate citizen and is committed to sourcing components and materials from suppliers that share our values regarding respect for human rights. ExOne views managing our obligations relative to the use of conflict minerals (tantalum, tungsten, tin and gold) as part of this corporate responsibility.

ExOne is committed to complying with Section 1502 of the Dodd-Frank Act, which requires companies to disclose annually whether any conflict minerals that are necessary to the functionality or production of a product, as defined in the provision, originated in the Democratic Republic of the Congo or an adjoining country (the "covered region"), and aims to prevent the use of conflict minerals that directly or indirectly finance or benefit armed groups in the covered region.

Please refer to ExOne’s latest Form SD filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission for our most updated conflict minerals disclosure provided pursuant to Section 1502. A link to ExOne’s most recent Form SD and Conflict Minerals Report also is available on our website, at the following link:
